

BookNet bestsellers: new Canadian fiction in hardcover

June 8, 2010 | 5:59 PM

This week's list covers the top twenty 2010 Canadian hardcover fiction titles for the two weeks ending May 30. While Yann Martel and Guy Gavriel Kay continue to hold fast to the first and second spots, Steven Heighton's Every Lost Country shoots up to #3 (from #6 three weeks ago), making it look like a budding CanLit hit. Meanwhile, Peter Darbyshire's The Warhol Gang debuts at #14, Gil Courtemanche's French-language title Je Ne Veux Pas Mourir Seul debuts at #19, and Adam Lewis Schroeder's In the Fabled East debuts at #20.
